SEALINK ANNOUNCES EARLY BIRD FARES FOR GREAT BARRIER ISLAND

This summer is the perfect time to head out to Great Barrier Island on holiday. It's one of those destinations that many people have "on their list" of New Zealand places to visit and with SeaLink's announcement of a new fares structure – this summer could be just the time to go.

The company's adult fare is being reduced from $127 to $120 with an Early-bird option of paying $99 prior to 30th September. "With the introduction of an Early-bird fare for high season (December and January) there is now a very good reason for customers to make an early commitment to their Great Barrier Island travel plans" said General Manager, Todd Bolton. "We firmly believe that this new fares structure will also stimulate the market during less busy times, which will be of benefit to customers, and island businesses alike". Family prices also offer good savings and these apply year round. The standard adult fare which applies outside peak times will become $85 return which is a considerable saving on the current $127 fare.

The company's Great Barrier vessel Island Navigator has just undergone extensive engine work and is sporting a shiny new paint job in preparation for the busy summer season ahead.
